SPEAKING

Your score: 130

Your scaled score is between 130 and 150. Test takers in this score range typically are able to create a relevant response when asked to express an opinion or respond to a complicated request. However, at least part of the time, the reasons for, or explanations of, the opinion are unclear to a listener. This may be because of the following:

- unclear pronunciation or inappropriate intonation or stress when the speaker must create language
- mistakes in grammar
- a limited range of vocabulary

Most of the time, test takers in this score range can answer questions and give basic information. However, sometimes their responses are difficult to understand or interpret.

When reading aloud, test takers in this score range are intelligible.

Pronunciation: Medium

When reading aloud your pronunciation is generally intelligible with some lapses.

Intonation and Stress: Medium

When reading aloud your use of intonation and stress is generally effective.

WRITING

Your score: 150

Your scaled score is between 140 and 160. Test takers in this score range typically can effectively give straightforward information, ask questions, give instructions, or make requests, but are only partially successful when using reasons, examples, or explanations to support an opinion.

When attempting to explain an opinion, their writing presents relevant ideas and some support. Typical weaknesses include:

- not enough specific support and development for the main points
- unclear connections between the points that are made
- grammatical mistakes or incorrect word choices

When giving straightforward information, asking questions, giving instructions, or making requests, their writing is clear, coherent, and effective.
